OPENING

September 20-24

University of Novi Sad, Faculty of Sciences
Dear Ladies, Gentlemen, Eminent colleagues from all over the world,

Welcome to the ADBIS 2010 Conference, welcome to Serbia, to Vojvodina, to Novi Sad.
I am extremely glad and excited that after several years of negotiation and postponing the organization of ADBIS in Serbia, you are finally guests of the University of Novi Sad.

We have the great pleasure to host such a significant event, with many high-quality researchers from all over the world, this week in our environment.
I am also grateful to our Rector - Prof. Miroslav Vesković, Deans of the Faculty of Sciences - Prof. Neda Mimica-Dukić and the Faculty of Technical Sciences - Prof. Ilija Ćosić, Head of the Department of Mathematics and Informatics - Prof. Marko Nedeljkov who understood and recognized the significance of this Conference and gave us appropriate support for organization.

I would like to ask

Prof. Miroslav Vesković, Rector of our University to give a welcoming word.
I would now ask

Prof. Neda Mimica-Dukić, Dean of the Faculty of Sciences to say a few welcoming words.
I would like to ask Prof. Vladimir Katić, Vice-Dean of the Faculty of Technical Sciences to take the stand.
Now, let me thank some colleagues who were extremely important in the realization of this event:

First of all, I would like to thank Prof. Bernhard Thalheim (PC Co-Chair), who finally persuaded me to accept the organization of ADBIS 2010 in Serbia, for his constant and productive work on the program part of the Conference,

I would also like to thank Prof. Barbara Catania (PC Co-Chair) for the hard work, constant support, and prompt communication, always keeping all activities under control.
I would like to ask Prof. Bernhard Thalheim to give us a short overview of the activities that have taken place, and the results obtained during the preparation of program part of ADBIS 2010.
• Two lines of submissions:
  – Classical one, managed by ADBIS PC Co-Chairs
  – Track-based, managed by specific track chairs

• Successful tracks
  – Conceptual Modeling in Systems Engineering (CMSE)
  – Data Mining and Information Extraction (DMIE);
  – Business Processes in E-commerce Systems (e-commerce)
  – Warehousing and OLAPing Complex, Spatial and Spatio-Temporal Data (WOCD)

• 165 total submissions, from 38 countries
• 107 papers submitted under the classical submission process
Accepted papers/posters
An overall picture

- Full papers: 25
- Posters: 14
- WOCD: 5
- DMIE: 2
- CMSE: 1
- e-commerce: 0

21.09.2010 Novi Sad, Serbia
• Acceptance rate - Overall submissions

- Full papers: 36
- Posters: 14
- Rejected: 115

Acceptance rate full papers: 0.22
Total acceptance rate: 0.30
Acceptance rate
Classical submission process

Acceptance rate full papers: 0.23
Total acceptance rate: 0.36
Next, I would like to thank my dear colleagues/professors Leonid Kalinichenko, Yannis Manolopoulos, and Tatjana Welzer, who were always ready to help me, to give appropriate suggestions and offer advice.

Also I am thankful to all PC members, organizers of Tracks and WS’ and of course, the productive authors, who contributed significant and high-quality research to this conference.
I will not bother you with the details of the many efforts which have been made in the last year, but I must say that I did not expect such a hard life and exhaustive work. My position of General Chair, unfortunately, was not gracious.

However, I had enormous support from my younger colleagues.
So, I would like to thank all members of the Organizing Committee for working hard during the last year (you can find their names in proceedings and the Conference program), but I am especially thankful for the enormous help of my young assistants: Dejan Mitrović (in fact he was my right hand) officially Secretary but actually Chair of Organizing Committee, Živana Komlenov and Gordana Rakić, members of the Organizing Committee.
And let me finally repeat: After all it is my pleasure to see all of you here, I am sure that there will be plenty of presentations of high-quality research, exchange of ideas and productive discussions.

I wish you to enjoy, first of all the Conference, sharing of ideas and opinions with other participants, but also to enjoy our city as much as you can.
WE WISH YOU SUCCESSFUL CONFERENCE